DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-4, 12, 13, 16, 17, 21 and 25 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4, 12, 13, 16, and 21 of copending Application No. 10/141,906. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both of the applications teach a device for controlling fluid in a microchannel including spaced apart retaining means disposed within the microchannel except for a variation in the manufacturing process, therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time that the invention was made to have used the process of the co-pending application in the instant application for the purpose of providing an element which is strong in structure

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 12/9/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that claims 1 of co-pending application 10/141,906 has been amended is longer coextensive in scope with claims 1 and 25 of the instant application.

Examiner disagrees. Although claim 1 of co-pending application has been amended, the claims have an obvious variation to the elements, therefore the rejection was changed from a 101 to a non-statutory rejection.
